2. DATA COLLECTION ANALYSIS

2.6 Data Analysis Questions

Analyze the LEA's data and answer the guiding questions to determine existing trends and patterns that support the identification of demographic and financial needs. Student subgroups with a count of less than 15 are denoted by "TFS" (too few students).

What perception data did you use? [examples: student perceptions about school climate issues (health survey, violence, prejudice, bullying, etc.); student/parent perceptions about the effectiveness of programs or interventions; student understanding of relationship of school to career or has an academic plan]	Teacher/staff survey, parent/stakeholder survey, student surveys
What does the perception data tell you? (perception data can describe people's knowledge, attitudes, beliefs, perceptions, competencies; perception data can also answer the question "What do people think they know, believe, or can do?")	Areas that indicate the highest level of satisfaction included: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Administration consistently builds and sustains relationships to foster the success of students and staff ● Extensive structures exist for staff to engage in shared decision-making and problem-solving to build their leadership capacities ● A common vision and mission have been collaboratively developed and communicated to nearly all stakeholders; staff consistently demonstrate a sustained commitment to continuous improvement ● School staff consistently provides a comprehensive system of support to maximize personal growth and development of nearly all students ● Students feel teachers are concerned they are learning material (85%) of students rated extremely / very concerned ● Students feel they are treated respectfully by teachers (85%) of students rated extremely / very respectful ● Students feel teachers encourage them to learn (88%) of students rated extremely / very well Areas that indicate lower level of satisfaction included: (rated as emerging) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Professional learning - teachers would like to see more department PLC time, and cross curricular collaboration ● More professional learning opportunities for staff Monitoring and evaluating the impact of professional learning needs to occur routinely ● Creation of more opportunities to provide open communication between school and stakeholders increasing family and community engagement Provide support and connection to families with agencies and resources in the community to meet the needs of students

What process data did you use? (examples: student participation in school activities, sports, clubs, arts; student participation in special programs such as peer mediation, counseling, skills conferences; parent/student participation in events such as college information meetings and parent workshops)

- Leadership team meeting agendas
- PLC meeting agendas
- Student Achievement data
- TKES data

What does the process data tell you? (process data describes the way programs are conducted; provides evidence of participant involvement in programs; answers the question “What did you do for whom?”)

Structures and process exist to support shared leadership in which the entire staff has collective responsibility for student learning and engages in collaborative inquiry focused on continuous improvement to increase student achievement. Data demonstrates that the vision and mission are translated into everyday practice and the results in the success of related school goals. Formal and frequent opportunities exist for staff to collaborate on success, challenges, and ongoing professional learning communities are utilized to focus on strengthening instructional practices. Feedback from the faculty, staff, students, parents, and community stakeholders have assisted in identifying areas of strength and areas for needed growth.

What achievement data did you use?

- EOC
- EOPA data
- Graduation Rate
- Pathway completer
- Edgenuity Course Completion

What does your achievement data tell you?

The Foundry achievement data was insufficient as we we only tested 5 students during this time and many of our students tested at their home school. Of the 5 tested we had 2 beginning level and 3 developing.

What demographic data did you use?

- Enrollment
- Attendance
- Race
- Ethnicity
- Gender
- English Learners
- Students with Disabilities
- Economically Disadvantaged
- Graduation Rate
- Discipline
- Teacher professional capacity data

What does the demographic data tell you?

Due to the Foundry demographics changing each semester and being attached to the LCCA, we are unable to reach a true understanding of the data. However our students at LCCA were 52% Hispanic and 39% Caucasian, 90% of which had free and reduced lunch.

3. NEEDS IDENTIFICATION AND ROOT CAUSE ANALYSIS

3.1 Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Read the trends and patterns summaries from each section of the data analysis process. Use the information in these summaries to complete 3.2 and 3.3. Using the summaries in 3.1 and other local data, describe the strengths and challenges or answer the guiding questions for each program. Include strengths and challenges related to: a) general program implementation, and b) students and adults involved in or affected by the program. Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.2. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Coherent Instructional: Summarize the coherent instructional system trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Coherent Instructional System Structures include: Planning for quality instruction, delivering quality instruction, monitoring student progress and refining the instructional systems. In most classrooms, the learning environment is supportive and well managed where individual student needs are met through a system of flexible grouping strategies to provide differentiated instruction. Through teacher self reflection and observation it was noted that teachers would like more work in the following areas: More time for collaboration, subject areas align with lesson plan and unit plans; performance tasks, along with continued Canvas training, focus on rubrics, checklists, exemplars for students to monitor their own progress and more data analysis of assessment results to adjust instruction.
Effective Leadership: Summarize the effective leadership trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Through a collaborative process a common mission and vision have been developed and clear expectations for instructional practice have been provided. It is clear that fostering positive relationships is key to student and staff success at The Foundry. It has been identified that more work is needed to ensure effective implementation of curriculum and instruction, and further data analysis to improve student learning.
Professional Capacity: Summarize the professional capacity trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	All instructional staff participate in job embedded professional learning in Professional Learning Communities (PLCs), which includes collaborative lesson planning, problem solving sessions, and some classroom observations. Teachers will be provided with additional support in meeting and documenting professional learning goals. However, there is not a process to monitor and evaluate the impact of professional learning on staff practices and student learning beyond follow-up with feedback and the opportunity for reflection. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Continued focus on techniques for classroom instruction within PLCs • Increased opportunities for teacher collaboration (Department and Cross Curricular)

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Develop a process to monitor and evaluate professional learning and its impact on student learning
Family and Community Engagement: Summarize the family and community engagement trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	The school has made great progress in creating an environment that welcomes, encourages and connects family and community members to the school. Through stakeholder and teacher surveys it has been identified that more community outreach would be beneficial. Such as: bilingual open house, family nights, improved communication. Serve as a hub for promoting parent education by linking families with community resource
Supportive Learning Environment: Summarize the supportive learning environment trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	A common vision and mission have been developed through a collaborative process and communicated to most stakeholders. Rules, practices, and procedures that maintain a safe, orderly learning environment are consistently implemented across the school and revised as needed. Evidence exists that a culture of trust and respect has been established and continues to be a focus for the school. A sustained commitment to promoting positive interactions and a sense of community is evident. However, continued focus on connecting instruction with future job/career is needed. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students develop a sense of personal responsibility (self monitoring, sharing, exhibiting and self reflection)
Demographic and Financial: Summarize the demographic and financial trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Due to The Foundry demographics changing each semester, for the Spring Semester were 54% Hispanic, 21% African American and 25% Caucasian, roughly 88% of which had free and reduced lunch.
Student Achievement: Summarize the student achievement trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	The Foundry achievement data was insufficient as we we only tested 5 students during this time and many of our students tested at their home school. Of the 5 tested we had 2 beginning level and 3 developing.

IDEA – Special Education, Economically Disadvantaged Children, and English Learners.

Using the summaries in 3.1 and other local data, describe the strengths and challenges or answer the guiding questions for each program. Include strengths and challenges related to: a) general program implementation, and b) students and adults involved in or affected by the program. Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.3. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

Strengths	Our strength for our Special Education community would be the fact that we lend ourselves to 1 on 1 focus with our students and lower case loads for our special education students. As well as the lower student to teacher ration to allow all students specifically those with needs more direct attention.
Challenges	Due to the limited number of faculty members used to run the LCCA and The Foundry campuses we struggle to provide Special Education students with the co-taught and resource courses they might need to complete their services.

The Foundry staff held multiple parent meetings, staff meetings and worked in conjunction with the Title I, student services, ESOL and the SPED Departments to solicit advice in order to best meet the needs of our diverse school.
2 Describe how the school will ensure that low-income and minority children enrolled in the Title I school are not served at disproportionate rates by ineffective, out-of-field, or inexperienced teachers.	All staff is currently certified in all of their respective course offerings.

Specifically define the subject areas to be addressed and the instructional strategies/methodologies to be employed to address the identified needs of the most academically at-risk students in the school. Please include services to be provided for students living in local institutions for neglected or delinquent children (if applicable).	The Foundry provides an intense program that focuses on improving the literacy needs of students between 6-12th grades. Students are identified through multiple state, district and school level assessments. The Foundry staff also uses multiple forms of informal assessment in order to identify and support our academically at risk students.
4 If applicable, provide a description of how teachers, in consultation with parents, administrators, and pupil services personnel, will identify eligible children most in need of services in Title I targeted assistance schools/programs. Please include a description of how the school will develop and implement multiple (a minimum of 2) objective, academic-based performance criteria to rank students for service. Also include a description of the measurable scale (point system) that uses the objective criteria to rank all students.	Due to The Foundry's size and being a discipline based alternative school, all of The Foundry students receive Title 1 support and services in order to give all of our students the best chance to be successful.
